Sandwiches are the quintessential lunch item. But these menu powerhouses aren't just for the midday meal. To help celebrate the power of the sandwich, Food Management is hosting our second annual Best Sandwich competition. If your sandwich packs a punch, we want to hear about it. Food Management editors will evaluate the entries and narrow them down. The team will vote on the winners in various categories. The winners in each category will be showcased in the September issue of Food Management and on Food-Management.com.
